State of the economy in New England and Nationally

Kathryn Underwood joined Ledyard National Bank in 2005 as the President and Chief Executive Officer. Ledyard is a $770 million full-service community bank operating in New Hampshire and Vermont. Prior to joining Ledyard, she spent her entire professional career with the Key Bank organization in Maine with the last five years serving as District President.

Kathy currently serves as a member of the Federal Reserve Bank of Boston Community Depository Institutions Advisory Council (CDIAC) and on the board of directors of the Independent Community Bankers of America (ICBA) where she serves as Chair of both the Education Committee and the Certification Board. From 2018 to 2020 Kathy served as Treasurer and Executive Committee member of the ICBA. She is a member of the Upper Valley Corporate Council, a Director of the Community Bankers Association of New Hampshire, a member of the National Community Depository Advisory Council, a board member of TCM Bank, a board member of the Barret School of Banking, and a board member of the New Hampshire Business Committee for the Arts.

She is a former Board member and past President of the New Hampshire Bankers Association, past Advisory Board member for the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau's Community Bank Council in Washington DC, and served a six year term on the Board of the Federal Reserve Bank of Boston where she also served as the Chair of their Audit Committee. She is a past Board member of Kendal at Hanover where she served for 9 years and chaired the Strategic Planning Committee. In addition, she is a past board member of the American Heart Association Founder Affiliate Board, the New Hampshire American Heart Association board, and a Go Red for Women Chair.

Kathy has an Economics Degree from the University of Southern Maine and is a Certified Financial Planner® (CFP).
